

PURE BLOOD.

NECESSARY TO HEALTH.

Druggists Rickert & Wells Guarantee
Vinol to Make Pure, Rich,
Red Blood.

"We see every day on our streets many people whose faces plainly show impure and impoverished blood. We want everybody in Barre to know that Vinol is a splendid blood purifier and blood maker," said Mr. Well of Rickert & Wells.

"Vinol is the best preparation we ever sold in our store to make pure, rich red blood, because it contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal, body building elements of cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil or grease to upset the stomach."

"Vinol tones up and strengthens the nerves of the stomach and enables it to obtain from the food eaten the necessary elements to create pure, rich, red blood, and in this way every organ in the body is strengthened and invigorated, and the skin is cleared from all disgusting eruptions."

Mr. F. W. Bean of Wilmington, Del., writes: "I suffered for months with poor blood, loss of flesh and strength. My physician prescribed different remedies, none of which helped me. I was discouraged when a friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and never saw anything like it; it purified and enriched my blood, increased my appetite, and I look and feel like a different man."

"We guarantee Vinol will purify and enrich the blood, create strength and build up every run down person in Barre or stand ready to refund the money in every case where it fails." Rickert & Wells, Druggists.

ACCUSED OF POISONING ATTEMPT, KILLS HIMSELF

Ira Ellis, Who Admitted That He Wrote Letters to Women Who Narrowly Escaped Taking Poison, Blows Brains Out.

Orleans, Mass., March 5.—Ira T. Ellis, 50, a stone mason of East Orleans, who Friday night was taken before Medical Examiner Davis to answer questions in connection with a recent alleged attempt to poison two women at Orleans, committed suicide yesterday by shooting at his home in East Orleans. The attempted poisoning is said to have occurred early in the week. Mrs. Etta Lewis, 48 years, and her 19 years old daughter, May, it is believed, were the intended victims, Paris green having been placed in a teapot and a tea kettle at their home, by a person believed to have known they were in the habit of drinking tea before retiring. Tuesday night the women attended a dance and were too weary to prepare the tea. The next morning they found the poison in the household utensils. State Officer Bradford of Hyannis found that Ellis was well acquainted with Mrs. Lewis, and Friday night took him to the office of Medical Examiner Davis. Ellis was permitted to return home after being questioned, but early yesterday he fired a charge of shot from a gun into his head, killing himself instantly.

Japanese Steamer Wrecked in a Dense Fog — Sank at Once.

Yokohama, March 6.—The Osaka Shosha Kaisha steamer Natorigawa, while entering the Osaka harbor, ran on a portion of the breakwater under construction, owing to a dense fog, and sank at once. Out of the 123 passengers and crew on board, only 16 were saved.

REXALL "93" HAIR TONIC.

Pull a hair from your head—if it is plump and rosy it is healthy, but if it is white and shrunken it is certainly diseased—and diseased hair is the short road to a bald head. Few people can afford a bald head, for a bald head is a serious handicap. In these days, when youth is a moving factor, when a man has to make his mark at thirty-five or be dubbed a "has been"—when business houses pension the man we used to call "middle aged," rather than allow their lagging influence to intrude upon the modern rush—you will certainly believe us in saying a bald head is a serious handicap. Few people can afford a bald head. Even those who can—those who are "fixed" socially, financially and matrimonially—have no desire for bald heads. But whether we can afford it or not, thousands of us are bald, either partially or wholly. What caused the baldness, whether an inherited tendency, undue mental effort, sickness, dandruff or other scalp disease, makes no difference. What we want is to grow new hair.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is a positive cure for all hair and scalp troubles. It is not sticky nor gummy, will not thicken on the hair, does not become rancid, has no disagreeable odor. It is clean, agreeable and pleasant to take.

It is a hair dressing of the highest order, and when a purchaser considers that we take all the risk in making such strong statements, is there any risk in giving it a trial? We want you to try on our personal recommendation one bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We will sell it to you on the broad and liberal Rexall guarantee of "Your money back if you are in any way dissatisfied." We do this of a desire to sell our customers just the remedies that give them value for their money. All we ask is the return of the empty bottle. Price, 50c a bottle.

Rexall "93" Shampoo.

A fragrant perfume toilet preparation, that will make the scalp cleaner than any other shampoo—and keep it clean—is put up in large capped jars, twenty-five cents each. Guaranteed, too.

STRYCHNINE AT NOB HILL

Bottle Found at Mrs. Stanford's Residence.

AUTHORITIES RETICENT

Money Taken Between Time It Left Union Bank on State Street and Its Arrival at the East Walpole Station.

San Francisco, March 6.—The San Francisco Call says that during a search of Mrs. Stanford's residence on Nob Hill by detectives a bottle containing strychnine has been found. The Call says: "This, it is believed, brings the perpetrator of the murder close home. Whether the bottle is the one from which the murderer took the poison that was placed in the water that Mrs. Stanford drank and later in the bicarbonate of soda which caused her death is a secret that the police will not divulge."

High Sheriff Henry at Honolulu has a long stenographic record of his examination of Miss Berner and Miss Hunt, the secretary and maid of the late Mrs. Stanford, relative to the circumstances of her death, but he maintains the utmost reticence and says that he will absolutely not divulge anything before the chemists make a report on their analysis of the contents of Mrs. Stanford's stomach. Mr. Henry further said that there was no foundation for the rumors that the chemists' experiments thus far had revealed no poison, the results, he said, had not yet been developed.

Detectives Saturday sailed for Honolulu, where Mrs. Leland Stanford lies dead of strychnine poisoning, to bring back to this city her private secretary, Mrs. Bertha Berner, and her maid, Miss Hunt. This was after a long consultation with the local authorities. Meanwhile an arrest is expected here at any moment. The police have a warrant for one person, believed to be a Chinese formerly employed in the Stanford home here. They await only official word from Honolulu of the finding of strychnine in Mrs. Stanford's body.

Miss Berner has been in Mrs. Stanford's employ for many years. She was with her at the time she gave $35,000 to the Leland Stanford University and since that time she has been her companion. She is a legatee under Mrs. Stanford's will for $20,000. Miss Hunt had been with Mrs. Stanford for a much shorter time. Both young women had been trusted to the utmost. Both were with her when she took the fatal dose in bi-carbonate of soda, and both were with her when she died.

MRS. STANFORD'S WILL.

Residue of Estate to Stanford University—Many Minor Bequests.

San Francisco, March 6.—The will of Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford was filed in the county court of Santa Clara county, in the city of San Jose, Cal., Saturday. Mrs. Stanford left to the Union Trust company of San Francisco $2,000,000, to be held in trust for various relatives. To her brother, Charles Gardner Lathrop, Mrs. Stanford bequeathed $1,000,000, and to local charitable institutions $35,000. Various sums are given to friends and servants. All her plate and articles of art are be-

A Wonderful Remedy.

"Seven Barks" was discovered and formulated thirty-three years ago by the once celebrated physician and chemist, Dr. Franz Gauswein, of Welsbaden, Germany. The curative properties of "Seven Barks" are extracted from the bark of a specially grown species of the Hydrangea plant—the bark of which, as botanists will tell you, grows in seven layers, each of different color and each possessing a distinctive medicinal value. It is the only plant known from which is extracted Providence-given elements, which in combination produce a single panacea that is a sovereign remedy for most all ailments and diseases of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels, Liver, Kidneys and Nerves. It is sold by over twenty thousand druggists in this United States alone, on a positive guarantee of absolute satisfaction or get your money back. Mrs. Mary Kittle, Kingville, W. Va., says: "I have been using 'Seven Barks' for Heart Trouble, Dyspepsia and Indigestion and find it does me more good than anything I can get."

Mrs. S. L. Kearney, of Cleveland, Miss., writes: "Seven Barks" has been a standby in my family for many years."

Mr. Conrad Stagle, Burrows, Ind., says: "For a long time I was in a bad fix with my back and kidneys and other troubles. I tried many doctors and various medicines and got no relief, but since I have been taking 'Seven Barks' I feel like a different man."

One thing we must not forget to say. "Seven Barks" is not and never was a medicine to be a lightning remedy. It doesn't rush things. It works slowly and thoroughly. But it will do its duty. Follow the directions and "Seven Barks" will satisfy your confidence in it.

queathed to the Stanford university museum. The residue of her estate is bequeathed to Stanford University.

To her brother, Ariel Lathrop of Albany, N. Y., she bequeaths the net income of one-half of the trust fund of $2,000,000 during his lifetime. At his death the trust shall cease as to the $1,000,000, and the property of securities shall be delivered to his relatives as follows: One-half to his brother, Charles Gardner Lathrop, and the other one-half to the descendants of his deceased brother, Daniel Shields Lathrop. The net income of the other half of the $2,000,000 trust fund is bequeathed to Jennie Lawton, Amy L. Hanson, her nieces, and to Daniel S. Gunning, and Amy L. Gunning, children of her deceased niece, Christine Gunning. The document, continuing, says:—

"I give and bequeath to Miss Bertha Berner, secretary and devoted friend to me through 15 years of trial and sorrow, the sum of $15,000. To the following faithful and devoted servants, Mrs. Charles Robertson, housekeeper for 14 years; Charles Wooster, coachman for over 40 years; Edward Largely, valet to my husband for 12 years; John Kelly, gardener and care-taker of our home in Sacramento, Cal., in our service for 41 years; Ah Wing, servant for 20 years, to each and every one I give the sum of $1,000. I give to the old ladies' home in Albany, state of New York, of which Mrs. General Frederick Townsend is, or was president, the sum of $10,000. I give and bequeath to the Protestant orphan asylum of Albany, in the state of New York, of which my dear mother was treasurer for 25 years or more, and of which Gen. John F. Rathbone was president, the sum of $10,000."

BRATTLEBORO MAY GO "NO."

House to House Canvass of No-License Party Expected to Change Last Year's Vote.

Brattleboro, March 6.—The license question in Brattleboro is one which is agitating public sentiment here. Last year license was carried by a small majority, and this fact encourages the Anti-Saloon league to renewed efforts to change the vote in next Tuesday's town meeting. It would not be surprising if the town should decide to try prohibition for a year, and to this end the Anti-Saloon league is directing special attention, a personal campaign having been quietly inaugurated not only here, but in other towns where it is thought the "yes" vote of a year ago can be reversed. For a week or more there has been a careful house-to-house appeal going on, and this will have, it is believed, considerable influence on the vote of Tuesday. The license people, on the other hand, claim that they have made no special effort to get out the vote nor will they do so, believing, as they say, that the common sense of the voter will dictate his action. Brattleboro is peculiarly situated with reference to the liquor traffic, and even in the event of its voting no-license, the patrons of the saloon will find little difficulty in obtaining their drinks from the licensed establishment just over the river, but a short distance from Main street. The fact that this place offers all of the inducements and temptations which prohibitionists charge now exist here, lends potency to the argument that Brattleboro will be no better without license, while the town will lose the revenue now paid by the licensees, while failing to restrict the consumption of liquor.

BISHOP McVICKAR FOR REFORM.

Calls Meeting of Clergymen to Consider Conditions in R. I.

Providence, R. I., March 5.—Right Reverend William Nelson McVickar, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Rhode Island, issued a call for another meeting of the Episcopal clergymen who are considering necessary reforms in the state. The meeting is to be held next Tuesday morning at Grace church, Providence, and, according to reliable authority, the committee of seven clergymen to which was entrusted the duty of devising some common basis of action will make its report. According to the same authority much of this report will be devoted to suggestions for purifying the political atmosphere and bettering moral conditions generally.

The clerical movement is independent of the Citizens' Union, but has the same objects in view.

$5,200 LOOTED FROM EXPRESS

Boston Company Has Mysterious Robbery.

NAILS IN MONEY'S PLACE

Detectives Leave San Francisco for Honolulu to Bring Miss Berner Back—Have Warrant for Another Member of Household.

Boston, Mass., March 6.—Detectives and officials of the Earle & Frew Express company are focusing all their abilities upon the problem of how it was possible for a package containing $5,200 in cash to be looted during the hours it was in the express company's possession, from the time it left the Union Bank, No. 40 State street, Boston, until it was placed in the hands of F. W. Bird & Son, Walpole paper manufacturers.

Mr. Bird, of the firm, drew the money from the bank, as is his weekly custom, to make up the factory payroll. He placed it in the hands of the express company and received a receipt. The express company forwarded the package in due course of business to East Walpole.

Whether the robbery occurred before the valuable package left the office of the company or afterward, is still a mystery. General Manager Tart of the New York & Boston Dispatch company, speaking to a reporter in the presence of General Manager Frew of the Earle & Frew Express company, said: "Our agent at East Walpole is Oliver J. Goodspeed. When he received the Bird package he noticed that the seals had been broken. He was accustomed to receive a similar package every week, and knew it contained the firm's payroll, so he hastened to the factory with it in order that Mr. Bird could tell at once whether the broken seals meant any abstraction of the contents."

The $5,200 was gone. Its place was a lot of old junk—spikes and nails. The box containing the junk had been substituted for that containing the money, and the whole wrapped in the original paper.

"All the agents through whose hands the box had passed had properly stamped it. We are conducting a rigid investigation, and hope to find the thief. It might defeat the ends of justice to say anything more about what is being done."

The substitution of the nails for the coin could not have been made in the company's office in Arch street, or on the train enroute for East Walpole. It is a theory that some employee of the company, who knew that the payroll money was to be forwarded, planned the change, believing that the larceny could not be traced.

The firm of F. W. Bird & Son loses no money out of the transaction, as its loss has been made good by the express company. The employees of the factory—360 in number—were inconvenienced by having to wait for their pay envelopes until more money could be sent for.

Neither the firm nor the Union Bank is interested, except sympathetically, in the recovery of the funds, and the prosecution of the thief. The express company, however, is leaving no stone unturned to solve the mystery. All concerned in the investigation are reticent, in their hope of discovering the culprit and regaining the stolen money.

COOK IS SLAIN. $55 CASH STOLEN

Killed by Blow With an Axe in Old Freight Car, Where He prepared Meals for a Crew of Section Hands.

Readville, Mass., March 6.—One blow in the skull with the blunt end of an axe instantly killed Alfonso Turi, a cook employed by section hands on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroads at Readville Saturday.

The murderer rifled the pockets of the dead man, securing at least $55 and made his escape over the tracks in the direction of Norwood. He is still at large. Robbery is the supposed motive.

Turi was employed in five old freight cars, which were on a spur track half a mile from the Readville depot on the branch running to Dedham, close to Milton street. Some fifteen section hands live in the cars.

Turi was last seen alive at 10:40 a. m. by Joseph Ross, who passed by on the track. Shortly after noon, Oliver Pedlar, passing the car, discovered the dead body of Turi lying on the floor of the car close beside the bench where the lamps stood.

The blue flannel shirt of the dead man had been ripped open and the money extracted from a small pouch in which he carried it.

Giuseppe Sebasco and a section hand named Marittano were arrested on suspicion but were afterward released.

LABEL GOODS.

Organized Labor Insists on Stamp for Convict Goods.

Providence, March 5.—Organized labor is out in force in favor of compelling the state to label goods made by convict labor. At a public hearing on an act to this end leaders of labor organizations in all sections of the state appeared and vigorously championed the measure, while not a word of opposition was heard.

It is said that the committee will report in favor of the act.

GERTRUDE JENKINS.

New Strength— Increased Vigor.

It is easy to get into a run down state and stay that way and forget what real health is. We never appreciate real health when we have it.

After feeling all run down, nervous and tired out, month after month, most people simply hope against hope that they will feel better soon. Instead of trying to do something to help themselves feel better, they depend on hope.

The only way to really help yourself is to get new strength and increased vigor.

Win back your right to feel strong and well every day.

A well person ought to wake up with a laugh every morning.

Health, vigor, determination, courage—in fact, all that makes life worth living depends upon a healthy supply of Nerve Force.

Paine's Celery Compound builds up the supply of Nerve Force, it revives the old force and makes new. It not only does this, but by strengthening the nerves that control all the organs of the body, it cures the real cause of headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, malaria, and the many diseases coming from a run down condition of the nerves.

Gertrude Jenkins allowed herself to gradually sink into nervous prostration, one of the final states that tired, abused nerves reach. Her experience is valuable to all those who feel "run down," "tired out" and are not helping themselves to get back to real health.

"Paine's Celery Compound cured me of nervous prostration when I was so weak and used up that I had to lie down part of each day. The doctor advised me to go away and take a vacation to build up, but I could not give the time or money. Paine's Celery Compound built me up within two weeks—my headaches disappeared, my appetite returned and the aches and pains gave way to new strength, life and increased vigor. I enjoy perfect health to-day and used less than five bottles of Celery Compound, so know by experience how valuable it is."—Gertrude Jenkins, 714—63d St., Chicago, Ill. (Member Ladies of the Maocabees.)

"Nervousness," "nervous prostration," "nerve decline,"—that run-down, worn-out feeling, nine times in ten are simply the result of prejudice, carelessness, or ignorance.

Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth University, was the first physician to enunciate the principle which to-day is recognized as one of the foundations of the science of medicine,—the great enlightening truth, that the nerve system rules all the body's health.

He sought and found the food that builds up and restores the nerves—his celery formula, which has become famous as Paine's Celery Compound—the celebrated nerve vitalizer and tonic.

Paine's Celery Compound is giving New Nerve Force to thousands every day by feeding and restoring the nerves to their full strength. It never fails to build up the run down system to full, ruddy health.

Two days' treatment proves its marvelous power. It braces you up. You feel better at once.

Sick headache, palpitation, dizziness, and heartburn are usually relieved by a single dose of Paine's Celery Compound.

For over 18 years Paine's Celery Compound has been the most universally used nerve vitalizer and tonic in the world.

Remember this,—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this country has ever known, and all reputable Druggists sell and recommend it.

NO JOBS FOR MEN WHO DRINK.

Gov. Hanley of Indiana Considers Temperance in Making Appointments.

Indianapolis, March 6.—Gov. Hanley has sprung a new idea in the matter of appointments to office in Indiana by declaring that no man who drinks intoxicants, even though he does not get drunk, will receive an appointment under his administration. He recommended in his inaugural the enforcement of the temperance laws, with a remonstrance feature which amounts to local option, and he now demands that men to be appointed to office under his administration shall be temperate.

His policy was announced when a personal friend called upon him and suggested the name of a well known party man for an appointment.

"I should like to appoint your friend," replied the governor, "and I have no doubt as to the merits of his service to the party, or his ability to do the work if he did his best. But railroads and other large business enterprises have of late years ruled against drinking men in their employ. That is a good policy, and as long as I am governor of the state the same policy shall be pursued in its business. I am sorry to disappoint you, but that will have to be my decision."
